Imagination
Brought me onto this stage
Imagination
Would never leave me alone
Imagination
Can touch the truth inside your coat
Imagination
Made me and destructed me

To make me want to stay in this chaotic world
All you need to give me is time for imagination

Imagination
Can toughen you and weaken you
Imagination
Stimulates your innocence
Imagination
Can trigger anomy for good
Imagination
Hugs you 'til you lose control

To make you want to win in this capricious world
All you need to get is time for evasion

Fictitious girls for fictitious boys
Fictitious phrase for fictitious praise
On the count of three
Fictitious love from fictitious doves
Ambitious feet from fictitious street
On the count of three

Imagination, imagination, imagination
