Lately life is like a dream
Watchin it through a smokey screen
Finding ways to slip away
Till I can be with you someday

In the darkness, you call my name
But only an echo came
I can hear you
I'm following your voice

And I'll travel, through the night
I'll follow fireflies
The wolves may call
My head may fall
Your voice will guide me through it all
I'll smile through the pain
I'll search till I forget my name
To find you
Will start to keep me warm
And your voice to guide me home

I could have sworn I saw your face
But I guess that I see you every place
People say I've lost my mind
I'm starting to wonder if they're right

And my heart knows, I can't be wrong
When the wind blows, I know that song
I can hear you
I'm following your voice

I'll travel through the night
I'll follow fireflies
The wolves may call
My head may fall
Your voice will guide me through it all
I'll smile through the pain
I'll search till I forget my name
To find you
Will start to keep me warm
And your voice to guide me home

I can feel the beating of your heart
Stay right where you are
I'm back too
And your face is constant in my mind
Beneath this starry night
Wait for me baby

I'll travel through the night
I'll follow fireflies
The wolves may call
My head may fall
Your voice will guide me through it all
I'll search till I forget my name
To find you

Ooh...
I'll find you
To find you 7X
