Tell me where we found the start
And how easily it ends
Maybe it was accidental
You always knew the best
As I'm left hanging in the air

So say you'll stay
With nothing holding us back

We fought and lost with gravity, satellites and ghosts
Pulled out from the wreckage, everyone would know
Our hearts beat fast enough to call this love

I was so careless at 19, a fool and calling out for air
And I tried to change when you changed
But it broke but I hardly fell

Don't say you never wanted me, cause you know it's lost
All truth
The atlantic held our future, but dreams woke me and you
It wasn't words that kept silent, it was just too far Apart
