"Haul"

Blind crawl I step the hell away from it all One look mesh lines on to the mission of concrete smiles brace this space
I want to see you from above one look I know I'm never gonna be the one to see you shine again

One more effort to your being your pulling out like on other I've ever seen One more push just to be sure so make the haul

Haul my feelings coming your looking at me like I'm miles away
Haul my feelings coming your looking at me like I'm trying to play Haul my feelings coming your looking at me like I'm
miles away
Haul me feelings coming down Break spine I'm gonna leave that shit behind think think it's all I do when you're not around Run hide a crazy world artificial pride wild free I'm never ever gonna see you you shine again One more push just to be sure the greatest piece of this crush will never grow
All there attempts for attention so make the haul!

Blind crawl I step the hell away from it all Run hide I'm never ever gonna see you smile

And now I'm just losing it My feelings haul behind this confused forget what I did this pain that runs through so thick
