Tortured souls, they get together once a year
To find a new way into heaven
Touched by angels forced to shake the devils hand
Who signs new wavers on their future

An hour ago, A minute away

Nobody understands at all
Nobody hears what keeps us awake
Nobody quits the fear long enough to get there

Corporate princess keep your heads together

Be the ones to prove this world is so wrong

Get the mad seasons out of your eyes forever
See the different sides will make us so strong

All that's between our lives
These changes we're looking for can be
So perfect, is it worth, is it worth it
To break the silence in our minds
