"When Are You?"

Yesterday you told me, "You're nothing but a loser boy"
Yesterday I wished you were screaming suffering six feet under ground

When are you going to die?
Leave me alone with my life
When are you going to die?
I hope it's not to long from now

Yesterday you looked at me like I was nothing more than a scum sack of shit
Last night when I thought of you,
You were bleeding and rotting in a fucking ditch

When are you going to die?
Leave me alone with my life
When are you going to die?
I hope it's not to long from now

Realize and see these walls
All my life you made a tragedy
Make the way and put me down
That's why I always see your death

All this blame that's in my head
Enough to burrow through a holy was your long history giving pain
That's why I always see you dead

When are you going to die?
Leave me alone with my life
When are you going to die?
I hope it's not to long from now
