"Girl Like You"

Never had too much to offer. My pride is all I got. I'm tired of voices telling me I'm crazy and you know that there talking a lot. Did you think you could fool me? Must have known it would come out. And I'm tired of the whispers I'm hearing over my shoulder and you know what they're talking about. Cause I've spent to long avoiding altercations. And I won't be hanging around to avoid investigations. I don't know why I'd waste anymore of my time with a girl like you. I guess I should have seen it coming. All the things I didn't see. And I'm tired of the fingers pointing my directionâ€¦ there'll be no more pointing at me.
