Don't speak those words that you never meant to say you can say you love me but it doesn't mean, it doesn't mean a thing

so say goodbye
to everything we tried
we never got it right

every empty word you spoke to every letter that I wrote all these things I've held so high they come crashing down

we fall behind
despite the signs
yeah we're running out of time
we live a lie pretend its right
but we're running out of time (Kenny: bending and breaking, we're falling behind and I know, yeah I know that we're running out of time bending and breaking, we're living a lie and I know, yeah I know, that we're running out of time)

that you made a big mistake you can cry your eyes out but it doesn't change it doesn't change a thing

(Kenny: sometimes its really not over) just let me go

you can't save this
can you save this
cause we're running out of time

I know its so hard to let go you'll see these things they break deep down inside of me
