She's calling now
for someone to hold
she's reaching out
but shes all alone

don't let her suck you in
she will spit you out
like she did back then

do you think about this face and all the tears you can't erase?
when karma comes calling
will you be found lacking?
and how you left me standing here all alone and full of fear?

will you be found lacking?

she's crying out
for you to return
she's lying now
about lessons learned

what goes around
comes back around
in the end we get
exactly what's deserved
what goes around
comes back around
in the end you got exactly what you earned

when karma comes calling...
