Right now she waits in the corner of the room before we fall into the end of this, such a simple little sin or so I thought back then you say to me don't cry those eyes you know I'm everything you ever wanted whatever you say don't fake this now its everything I have don't take it I can't let you go

don't cry those eyes

right now she takes what she wants and she wants more of you until you're broken down her size, her lies pull you further from the truth so dry, its all you do

you say to me don't cry those eyes
its everything I have don't take it
I can't let you go
don't cry those eyes

don't fake this don't fake this now
