

Flying First Class

"Your Heart Just Can't Take It"

Visit "Your Heart Just Can't Take It" on MotoLyrics.com

Compacts lipstick a big night radio on, bright vanity lights you smile, and you smile pick out the blue dress that catches his attention slip on the pointy shoes hearts building up with tension load up the car, hit up the bars you say you're happy, you're beautiful grin you'll shut him down, over and over again forget his compliments , forget his compassion you shut off all his subtle actions end the night, the way you walked in chip on your shoulder, sipping your tonic and gin your barstool, the room getting vacant but you know your heart just can't take it bathroom, dim lights, mascara running standing naked, your thoughts of him gunning for your company

oh you would not see you wipe away your jet black tears your pjs, your blankets, your pillows, your fears and all you'll miss, is his goodnight kiss

you say you're happy, you're beautiful grin
you'll shut him down, over and over again
forget his compliments , forget his compassion
you shut off all his subtle actions
end the night, the way you walked in
chip on your shoulder, sipping your tonic and gin
your barstool, the room getting vacant
but you know your heart just can't take it you can't be beautiful forever (yet you love) Mr. Right now, Mr. Clever

Visit Flying First Class page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
