I know
Days will come and go
But maybe I'll grow old
But I will die

For now
Is it worth it to be sad
If it's harder to be glad
To be alive

But the trouble I have caused
I wonder
Where do I belong
Is it here

Believe in dreams
You love so much
Let the passion of your heart
Make them real
And tell
All the ones you love
Everything about the love you feel

Laugh about the past
And secretly
Wish we could go back

And save the child

As I look around this room
Seeing worried eyes I know
It's time we cannot buy
Was this worth the time to write
Was this worth the time to write

Believe in dreams
I believe in dreams
I believe in dreams
I believe in you

Believe in dreams
You love so much

Let the passion of your heart
Make them real
And tell
All the ones you love
Anything and everything you feel

Believe in dreams
Believe in dreams
