She says her folks are out of town
She tells me to come stick around (for a while)
This anticipation is killing me
I finally head over
Shes in nothing but a jacket
So temping, so beautiful

As our skin touched
And our lips locked
Something happened at that moment
We got this feeling inside

The next sound I hear
Are the closing of car doors
Apparently her parents were back
Were beginning to panic
As were throwing our clothes on
We rush out her bedroom (into the living room)
We sat on the couch as if nothing had happened
But me and her knew something did

2x
As our skin touched
And our lips locked
Something happened at that moment
We got this feeling inside

As I left
I kissed her goodbye
Shes said that shes sorry
I said don't sweat it
I'll be comin back next week

2x
As our skin touched
And our lips locked
Something happened at that moment
We got this feeling inside
That we knew
We'd be together forever
