Stop, start and come back
Stop, start and come back
Stop, start and come back
Changing what you know

Every time forever
Every now and never
Everyone together
Come on and feel the flow

You stepped into the future
Future into the great divide
You stepped into the future
Future and it's opening wide

Future
Future

Yesterday is waiting
Here today and moving
Tomorrow's still returning
Let go of what you know

Every time forever
Every now and never
Everyone together
Come on and feel the flow

You stepped into the future
Future and it's where you're at
You stepped into the future
Future, when there's no turning back

Future
Future

From where you're at you can't turn back
You can't turn back
From where you're at you can't turn back
You can't turn back

You stepped into the future

Future into the great divide
You stepped into the future
Future and it's opening wide

You stepped into the future
You stepped into the future
You stepped into the future
You stepped into the future
Future
