All that I know is that I want you here with me
To hold you and never let go
All that I see is someone I love leaving me
And that's not the way I want it to be

'Cos I wanna hold you and make you mine
And I wanna keep you for the rest of my life

I want you back in my arms
I need you here in my heart again
I want you back in my arms
That's where you belong, back in my arms

I still wake up thinking that you're next to me
But an empty space is all I see
And all I can do is let you know the way I feel
And I hope one day you feel it too

And if you need to take some time
I will be waiting if you change your mind

I want you back in my arms
I need you here in my heart again
I want you back in my arms
That's where you belong, back in my arms

And if you need to take some time
I will be waiting if you change your mind

I want you back in my arms
I need you here in my heart again
I want you back in my arms
That's where you belong, back in my arms

I want you back in my arms
I need you here in my heart again
I want you back in my arms
That's where you belong
