She was the black sheep of her family
She was a rebel - loved living free
She gave her loving - fast as the wind
She'd give it all - again and again
Sometimes mean - sometimes kind
The more she'd look - the less she'd find
She never knew what was right or wrong Never knowing where her heart belonged

* bad dreams, blue tears and mixed emotions
Search for a heart that can't be broken
She's walking down an endless street
Her body's burning with the heat
Bad dreams, blue tears and mixed emotions
Search for a heart that can't be broken
She's walking down an endless street
Her body's burning with the heat

She'd loved him once - but then they had a fight
The table's turning - now she's cold as ice
Still searching after all these years
This lady has cried a million tears
She was the hero of the lost and found She'll pick'm up - she'll put'm down
She's at the wrong place - at the right time
Stone cold woman - you're way outta line

*repeat
