You can't sleep, you can't breath
You're out of reach
'Cause you can't save me, save me
This heart, on your sleeve
The crime scene
They saw you leaving, leaving

You're dangerous 'cause you don't look down
You're dangerous 'cause you're falling
And if the sky drives you underground
Then underground I'll come crawling

Black light, you're dressed in white
Like a lonely cloud
There's no fading, fading
A crowded space, you can't hide,
'cause inside
You hear me calling, calling

You're dangerous 'cause you don't look down
You're dangerous 'cause you're falling
And if the sky drives you underground
Then underground I'll come crawling

Nobody's ever owned
The only place the sunlight's shining
Nobody's ever known
The sunlight when their sky is diving

You're dangerous 'cause you don't look down
You're dangerous 'cause you're falling
And if the sky drives you underground
Then underground I'll come crawling
