Is it something that I said,
Is it someplace that I went,
That made you let go?
Is it the demons in your head,
You didn't want to let go?

I'm on the line
I'm on the line

When all the lights are blinding (so long)
As they guide you on your way
When all the world's decided (so long)
To lock you far away

Is it something that I broke,
And I never tried to mend it?
Is it the words I never spoke,
All the times you tried to end it?

I'm on the line
I'm on the line

When all the lights are blinding (so long)
As they guide you on your way
When all the world's decided (so long)
To lock you far away

When all the lights are blinding (so long)
As they guide you on your way
When all the world's decided (so long)
To lock you far away
