wake up you're dreaming I can't stand your screaming drowning out these prayers just some words without meaning spare all the preaching my secret's worth keeping 'cause no one understands like I do keep out of reach I'm your leading deletion hide behind these masks though they still see right through them every now and then you're down and out my friend down and out again, but I'm down with you one more time for the last time one more time for release one more time for the last time everyone wants to believe blame it on youth all those years I made through them blame it on the past it's the last place I knew you blame all the children they're raging and ruined blame it on the black and the blue
