Lies lies lies lies, they have covered up your, eyes eyes eyes eyes

The truth they've held from you so step away from the culture and remove the blindfold the freedom you desire is in plain sight

Disregard everything you once knew, your thoughts are drowning, endlessly

Disregard everything you once knew, you cannot trust a single word they say

Embrace new life
there is still hope the cry of my heart is for you to know there's life in Christ, for me and you

And its all we have its all we've ever had forever and ever

One day you will find truth, in that which contradicts you forget the lies they've fed you, Christ is the only shed of truth that we have left

His promise is greatest thing we have

Lay down your life part ways with pride

Grip that extended hand, freedom is an arms reach

Take hold, and see your calling

God, make yourself known.

The suffering will end, in his arms
