I swear I've been here before I've walked up and down this lonely corridor I've heard these words countless times But still I can stand here and look at you as you pass the same old lines I've been alone I've petrified my heart To solid stone but still I can hurt But I can't cry I've wanted to so much I wonder why and I'm not surprised I find I can't believe Anything you've said to me Anything you told me that you feel I find this breakup unreal But I know how to hurt I've been down this road a thousand times I've been alone I've petrified my heart To solid stone but still I can hurt But I can't cry I've wanted to so much I wonder why and I'm not surprised I find I can't believe Anything you've said to me Anything you told me that you feel I find this
this road a thousand times
