fall asleep, fade into dreams like a leaf drown or fallen with breeze a perished romance, but does it affect me? yes, as perdition and ruin are accompany

like a flower withers and it's time of beauty a last farewell, but do i even care? yes, as a goodbye was all we ever had

CHORUS:

this is the new last beginning, a distant shore a long way to somewhere this is the last new ending, jubileum of my sorrow perhaps the august waters turn to frost perhaps the flame of life is lost on these meadows of earth, all painted here by dreams of rust and when the veil of sun is rising, maybe once it brought some light now it's one that takes away every beam into the night
