4 am... mother earth sleep in her dream the gentle sound of rain send shivers down my spine the window upstairs bring in the breeze oh i know there's a world waiting empty and cold

CHORUS:

i keep on thinking, i keep on waiting i keep on losing my trust in you 'cos i am always one step behind the truth no more i'm thinking, once more i'm waiting no more i'm crying after you i will find another way to see what's the truth sometimes i imagine, well sometimes i'm not sure am i really flying or down here searching for some way to disappear million miles away to say goodbye and call it a day
