wish you were here to tell how it feels thank you're not here to know how it feels when citylights and sounds of falling rain fall over me so dark and real

CHORUS:

goodbye to my friends, we won't meet again far away the world is gone, this must be the end the flame in our heart, hope in the corner of my eye it turns cold and fade with a rain tonight and so it rains... i hear them say it's nothing new they turn their faces away but i am here, don't know who you are i wish i'd never come this far goodbye my fiends, we won't meet again

far away the world is gone, this must be the end since so long, from childhood days this feeling i don't belong here i cannot escape my pain goodbye my friends, we won't meert again
far away the world is gone, this must be the end takes me closer to the rain, i tell you how it feels when memories are like knives that bring the pain i tell you how it feels
