To the ones with the broken dreams
And to the ones lost and hopeless
To the ones that stand up for what's right
To the world come meet your king

Let the generation with a broken heartache
Be restored
Come meet your king

God help

I declare

Over my GENERATION

Restoration

Under sin we fallen into the hands of deception
Open your eyes bring us back to life again
God set our minds free
Let us not be bound to this world
To this broken world
But only you can bring us back father
Turn our hearts away from this world
Only you can bring us back
You are the only hope
And so we run to you
Break everything in your path
Take your rightful place in our lives

Stand up high God take us from this side
And we will never let up
So now the stage is set
And waiting for breakthrough
Greater suffering is to come if
You don't break everything
Destroy the compromise of our flesh

Come and break everything in your path
Bring with you liberty for the confused
Take and break everything
Break everything in your path

Break everything in your path
To find your rightful place in our lives
Take your rightful place in our lives
