I have led astray some stars, in remembrance of the embrace that we shall never Have. Lo my everlasting quest. The everflowing stream, the kiss within the Sword, so near in the absence, close in the surrender.
A sigh within a storm can Bring us together. Forget me not.

Feel the winter Eves, the glimmers of midnight are the promises of our coming Delight.

I have always been who I am, I am the one that I shall be, out of sight, always There, like a shade in the night and a spark in the flames. You're so dear to my Heart. I have to fade away, I dwell in every signs.
Fearless be for the grace,
And never satisfied. Forget me not.

Feel the winter Eves, the glimmers of midnight are the
promises of our coming Delight.
