Know that I'm living on a day-to-day basis
I'm digging in the dirt for traces of our love
Of our love
And with the sun as my only witness
And the sun knows for sure that this is
My last goodbye
My last goodbye
Hear me now 'cause I'm speaking for the lost and the lonely
I'm allowed to 'cause of how you hurt me
I belong, I belong
And I swear on the stars up above
And I swear I'd do it all again for love

This is my last goodbye
My last goodbye
And I've had my fair share of the good, bad and beautiful
And I've had my fair share of life
This is my last goodbye
My last goodbye
I can't take another goodbye baby
I won't make another goodbye baby
