You bring me back, back to life in troubled times,
through troubled times.
We can't take another chance, if we let this pass it could be our last.

We will try, try again to put the ink back in the pen.
Take the world for all you see.
We can try to make ammends since the past is present again.
Chase your wildest fantasy.

The sunlight makes me feel alive.

The sky won't stop to, stop to cry for you and I.
For you and I.
Define me, this entity, this entity.

We will be here for, every sunset, every sunrise and
every solstice.

The sunlight makes me feel alive.

We will be here for, every sunset, every sunrise and
every solstice.
