Searching out to find a pattern in the center through and Through.
The light that shines brings us all closer to the end of Truth.

"And I can't do this on my own a million miles away,
and
I feel so alone.
And I can't do this on my own my mind begins to
I'm so alone...

In a structure filled with lies and ties taking up their Turn.
To let the rays shine down, Now watch as this city burns.

A losing war, in the balance of mankind.
Our twilight will be found when the sun has set.

A losing war, in this balance of mankind.
Our twilight will be found when the sun has set.

And I can't do this on my own a million miles away, and I
Feel so alone.
And I can't do this on my own my mind begins to
I'm so alone...

The day this earth stood still.
We watch them fade away.
