It's raining today
It's all the same
Just stay in bed and sleep it away

Take it in stride
Take it in time
Throw it all away for one more day

To make it all, all okay
To make it all...

She blames her dad
She blames her sadness on the world
But isn't sure

He'd hold her hand
But you never can
She pulls away cause that's her way

To make it all, all okay
To make it all, all okay

And she's crying
You know she's trying to hold on tight
And she loves you but she can't hear you anymore
And she's waiting for her knight in shining armor
To sweep her away like it's all okay

It's raining today
It's all the same
So stay in bed now and sleep it away

Take it in stride
You'll make it in time
He'd give it all away
