We used to drive all night and listen to the radio We'd push the front seats up and make the back our bedroom
Just stay here all night long, be strong
Forget the world we're living in

Mother, I know you know I'm having a good time
I'm sleeping so little but I'm living a good life
No need to worry, got a place to lay my head down
No need to worry, got a place to sleep

I need somebody to rely on
And you weren't that for me
And you'll never be that for me
Yeah, you'll never be that for me
Yeah, you'll never be

I count down the steps to your apartment
'Cause I'm eager to know if you're even at home
And I called you on the drive home
But you weren't alone

Mother, I know you know I'm having a good time
I'm sleeping so little but I'm living a good life
No need to worry, got a place to lay my head down
No need to worry, got a place to sleep

I need somebody to rely on
And you weren't that for me
And you'll never be that for me

I need somebody to rely on
And you weren't that for me
And you'll never be that for me

I love you but I'm not sure that I really want to touch you
But I will only if you ask me to
Yeah, you'll never be that for me
Yeah, you'll never be that for me

I need somebody to rely on
And you weren't that for me

And you'll never be that for me

I need somebody to rely on
And you weren't that for me
And you'll never be that for me
Yeah, you'll never be that for me
