[Excerpt of Brad Pitt from Fight Club:
"I want you to hit me as hard as you can."]

Took all her pictures off my walls
Haven't come in town in so long

This breaks so deep to repair
But everywhere while you alter the red

And when it all, all goes down
I'm left with feet still on the ground

You, there's nothing I can't do
After what I've been through.
(You know what you've done to me)
All I need is time to heal this wound
It could take a while judging by the
Size of the knife that you used

This blade's so deep?
(Just to wear this red)
Blood everywhere
(As the storm of this red)
This blade's so deep
(Just to wear this red)
Blood everywhere
(As the storm of this red)

You, there's nothing I can't do
After what I've been through.
(You know what you've done to me)
All I need is time to heal this wound
It could take a while judging by the
Size of the knife that you used

This red will one day wash off
I just hope you'll still be here
This red will one day wash off
I just hope you'll still be here
This red will one day wash off
I just hope you'll still be here
This red will one day wash off

I just hope you'll still be here
This red will one day wash off
I just hope you'll still be here
This red will one day wash off
I just hope you'll still be here
