We have so much to say about this
But it is so hard to teach because you are so slow to Learn
In fact though by this time we should be teachers
But you need someone to teach you need someone to teach
You first
Don't you know
I told you everything I thought you ought to know
Without the writing on the walls
Here we are again so far from where we want to be
With all the things that we say that tear him apart tear
Him apart
You've gone much further than I know
Without the without the
Without the writing on the walls
