I've found everything I ever needed and only brushed it With my finger nails if only I could get closer to this I Know I could have a better chance to face the day

Can you take me as I am I'll take what you've become Cause I have fought what you have won bridges are burned Chances are lost to free minds time is alive it's not on Our side to save I've found something to believe in worth More than gold worth more than time wasted looking round

For things that will bring us down I wish I'd never seen
I wish I never believed all the things they told me
