"Whose Behind The Door?" something so cold it moves closer in my dreams what if it finds me, don't let them find me it chokes me when it all turns cold inside is it you...? please, talk to me premonitions cut like broken glass who'se behind the door if there's nothing there night is breathing and steals my sleep quietly tells about a haven six feet deep a one step away, a one step behind what if they find me, i know they'll find me i can tell it now, something's not right when it feels i'm not alone is it you...? speak to me elusive hopes leave the earth and you seems like dreams were always so futile

CHORUS:
