An endless descent into my personal darkness
Longing for nonexistence, slowly holding my breath
Down down down So fucked up and so careless Feeling so close to the end of this journey into cold death

Deprive me Pave the way for my demise
Deprive me I will miss the morning rise
Deprive me Cut me down, close my eyes
Deprive me To deny the gift of life

This torment so tempting, the path of the joyless
I took all my love and turned it into my own curse
Rape my innocence, rip me apart, leave me heartless
The only place I fit in is into my own hearse

Deprive me Pave the way for my demise
Deprive me I will miss the morning rise
Deprive me Cut me down, close my eyes
Deprive me To deny the gift of life

Deprived

Useless strains of sorry lies
Worthless days, worthless nights

Deprive me Kill my chances to survive
Deprive me Through black waters let me dive
Deprive me Waste my will to be alive
Deprive me Take away what I despise
