what ever happened to our unfinished dreams why did it fade away was it just a fantasy
oh please tell me why and where have they gone our souls and hearts were made just to be strong I know this time is tearing
us apart
can we start again
look inside your heart
we can build our dreams together
just say you'll stay
with me forever
The faith we have will help us to rise above we have to break the cycle and show our love lets put aside the pride and not deny our true feelings locked deep inside I know this time is tearing
us apart
just say you'll stay with me forever
when times get rough stand up be tough (be tough) give more than before when it wasnt enough
what you cant imagine
is what you can reach having pride in yourself
you can teach
