Chorus: When you're feeling lost and you wanna be free
And you feel like your world is tearing up at the seams
Remember there's light if you wait til the dawn
You may walk through the clouds
But to carry on you've got to follow the sun
There was a time when I lived my life
Thinking only of the things that would bring me down
And all the while what I didn't know
Is that I never took the time to look around
There's a little good in everyone
And sometimes it takes a little work to see the sun
If you try you may find your life has just begun
So don't you run don't you run
Chorus
There was a time when my hopes and dreams
Were fading out to black and white or so it seems
And all that while what I couldn't see
Is that my river of troubled waters was just a stream
There's a little good in everyone
And sometimes it takes a little work to see the sun
If you try you may find your life has just begun
Chorus
Bridge
Listen Baby this world may be crazy
And sometimes you'll feel you're losing the game
But there's always a reason to keep on believing
For everyone is not the same
Chorus 3x
