

Forty Winks "To The Lonely Hearts"

Stand by, but it's time to stop crawlin' around to wake up from this nightmare that keeps holdin' you alone, in your room your keep still, but you're so thrilled cause the world outside's so mean this song goes to the lonely hearts weepin' better times this one goes to the lonely hearts can someone help them out before nightfall regrets, on each step so many mistakes, are raisin' again as you're boilin' over with anger it's cold, and you get old but dont stand still, dont be so thrilled put the music back on, and dance all night long it's raining, bad news i'm itchin' all over, i lay down on my bed this night will never end
