You're forever telling me I'm weak
When I am criticized I never speak
I prefer to turn the other cheek
But I will love you all my life

I can never do things right by you
I'm the kind of man who muddles through
You can find mistakes in all I do
But I will love you all my life

Something foolish happens and you see
In the middle of it all there's me
Seems I cause you so much misery
But I will love you all my life

All my-y life, all I own
Every-ything is yours alone
Every-yday my whole life through
I will spend loving you

I can't help myself, I can't let go
Darling don't you know I love you so-o
Even though you never care for me
Darling how I wish that you could see
That I will love you all my life

All my-y life, all I own
Every-ything is yours alone
Every-yday my whole life through [fade]
