Would you just say something
Please just anything?
Because I can't stand
That look on your face
We're in over our heads
We're in over our heads, she said

I beg to differ with all your pointing fingers
And second guessing, my second chances
Because you're what's been keeping me up at night
One last time before I'm out that door

The bells keep ringing, wine and roses
This needs a compromise
Back and forth, here we go
We lose our self control

This old flame, it won't light itself
This needs a compromise
You're the spark, I'm the fuse
We'll make the perfect match
So what are you waiting for?

We're going to take this town alive
And show them what it's like
When pretty faces sleep with secrets

I'm still waiting for that moment
To get caught in the rain
It's getting late, we don't have much time
It's time to make a move

But these hands, they wander
Let's make this scene a crime
Now one last time before I'm out that door
Out that door, yeah

We're gonna take this town alive
And show them what it's like
When pretty faces sleep with secrets

Wake to the morning sun

Smile to the sunrise
Write to me tonight, tonight, tonight
It's gonna take more than
A miracle to save us now

We're gonna take this town alive
And show them what it's like
When pretty faces sleep with secrets

Would you just say something
Please just anything?
Because I can't stand
That look on your face
We're in over our heads
We're in over our heads, she said

This is the last time
Yeah, this is the last time
