"You're gonna get yourself hurt", she said
I must be the man I've never been
Do you get that feeling?
This feelings lost and will this ever end?

If his heart's still beating, leave me to handle it
Until my conscience is free and clear

How could this suffering
Take the place of a loved one?

By now my arms are spread so thin
Why do you hang this over my head?
Did you know you did this to yourself
I swore I'd never see this place again

If you feel like letting go to be alone
Just take things slow
It's exactly how we're meant to be, waste of time
Without a second try

Every time I see these faces without me
It's not the weather making my bones cold
There's no feeling in your own skin
You're so easy, so easy, so easy, go

If you feel like letting go to be alone
Just take things slow
It's exactly how we're meant to be, waste of time
Without a second try, take the trouble

She must be the devil
She must be the devil
She must be the devil
She must be the devil

Why do we fight for this
When there's more questions than answers?
They call us fools
As we watch ourselves be buried alive

She must be the devil

She must be the devil
She must be the devil
She must be the devil

If you feel like letting go to be alone
Just take things slow
It's exactly how we're meant to be, waste of time
Without a second try
