

Four Letter Lie

"Tell Me About Everything"

It's time to cover up and
Tell me about everything
You're missing, you're wishing
You're hoping

Tell me about everything

Well, I don't feel at all the way
I think I should but I could
Probably go like this forever

Anything but the sound
When the last two hearts in town
That were ever meant
For anything are taken away

I'm so sick of being sick of you
But I've been dying for Something new like you

You've always had your way
Of making this complicated
So complicated, it'll be just fine
Don't worry you're mine

All we need is time
And I just want a sign
It'll be just fine

So let's talk this over
We'll try this one more time
Let's talk this over
We'll try this one more time

The way you lay your hands upon me
Makes me weak in the knees
But makes me feel alright

The patron saint of everything
You're missing, you're wishing
You're hoping

Slow down, slow down
You're not making sense at all
Slow it all down

Cover up your eyes
All we need is time

You've always had your way of Making this complicated
So complicated

It'll be just fine
Don't worry your mine
All we need is time
And I just want a sign
It'll be just fine
