(Just ask the lonely)
The young and foolish laughed as love
Slowly ran away
Confident and sure that fate
Will bring another love their way
But ask the lonely
How vainly a heart will burn
From losing a love that will never return

(Just ask the lonely)
Just ask the lonely
They will tell you
They'll tell you a story of sadness
A story too hard to believe
And tell you the loneliest one is me

(Just ask the lonely)
Ask me
I'm the loneliest one, you'll see
