The world is changing but you cant fight the past
Hold your breath, it keeps advancing
You know its hanging just out of your grasp
You reach out but it's too far gone

Call it chaos or disbelief,
I won't become a double standard
Plead your case, but make it brief
The world has got a date with disaster

So float away, float away
In search of a time worth changing
Look around you, look around
You'll see that your world is wasting
Barely alive, nowhere to hide
But still we keep on hoping
Someone give me a sign

You feel you're broken but you're never alone
Call it pride, but keep your distance
The fires burning as it heats up the stone
Self defined, we fuel resistance

Call it chaos or disbelief,
I won't become a double standard
Plead your case, but make it brief
The world has got a date with disaster

So float away, float away
In search of a time worth changing
Look around you, look around
You'll see that your world is wasting
Barely alive, nowhere to hide
But still we keep on hoping
Someone give me a sign

Take another look around
Is gravity what's dragging us down?
One by one
Hold your breath and close your eyes
The stars are falling out of the sky
One by one

Float away, float away

So float away, float away
In search of a time worth changing
Look around you, look around
You'll see that your world is wasting
Barely alive, nowhere to hide
But still we keep on hoping
Someone give me a sign
Someone give me a sign
Someone give me a sign
