We're always off and on
Don't tell me I'm wrong
I'm only making and breaking
The ties that did not belong in the first place
But in your case
Really you should brace yourself
And trace your steps
Back to the time we thought that
Hanging on sidewalks would never be second best
But we would find out soon that
We were never as good as the rest.
So I said

Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted
A friendless situation.
Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted
A friendless situation.
Because who needs enemies
When you've got friends like these

If you think were staying strong
You're totally wrong
If you were worth all the worship
I wouldn't write you this song in the first place
Heres a small taste
Of all the things you've brought upon
Yourself because of the Way you think the
Entire world is out to get you
So try to remember that we
Could never compare to the rest. So I Said
Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted
A friendless situation.
Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted

A friendless situation.
Because who needs enemies
When you've got friends like these

I'm just passing time
And its complicating but captivating
Every little thing you've come to trust
And its just the thing that makes us what we are.
I'm just passing time
And its complicating everything
And I'm complicating everything because of the Way you think the
Entire world is out to get you
So try to remember that we
Could never compare to the rest. So I Said

Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted
A friendless situation.
Is this what you wanted?
A friend less motivated
Tell me this is what you wanted
A friendless situation.
Because who needs enemies
When you've got friends like these
