We live in a world of how and why
So many questions fill my head
Not everything is cut and dry
This is the moment of truth
Who do I turn to?

Chorus

The sky is opening wide
The truth is shining through
After all that I've tried
You found me now I'm lost
I'm lost in You

Is there anything out there?
Is there anything real?
What do you think?
Tell me how do you feel?
There's no way I can do this all alone
I need more than I see
I want more than I found
The sky is opening wide
The truth is shining through
After all that I've tried
You found me now I'm lost

The sky is opening wide
The truth is shining through
After all that I've tried
You found me now
I'm lost in You

The sky is opening wide
The truth is shining through
After all that I've tried
You found me

The sky is opening wide
The truth is shining through
After all that I've tried
You found me now I'm lost
I'm lost in You
