You're telling me i should forget you

But why

You're talking like i never knew you

But that's a lie

You're playing out your games again

Why are you never on my side?

You're telling me i should forget you

Come on the guys a fake

What do you love him for?

And it was my mistake

Kicking in his door

And if it's just a game

Then what are we crying for

You're telling me i will regret you

And so

You're talking like i should expect to

But you'll never know

And he's left you in the rain again

You were always on my mind

You're telling me i should forget you

Come on the guys a fake

What do you love him for
And it was my mistake
Kicking in his door
And if it's just a game
Then what are we crying for
What do you love him for
I don't know any more
Come on the guys a fake
What do you love him for?
And it was my mistake
Just kicking in his door
And if it's just a game
Then what are we crying for
You're telling me i should forget you
