I am just a man imagining things
That are happening to me, to me
And, ya, I'll turn around
But I will never see the things I want to see

I want to believe

I will not turn this ship around
Full sail, with blind eyes
Things are not better when you look around
I cannot set it straight, or make it right

And we wait for a savior
To take us from certain hell
We save ourselves and no-one else
We save ourselves and no-one else
Else

No-one knows what they don't know
They only know the things that they are told to know
They tell us that the end is near
But never tell us where we need to go

I want to believe

I will not turn this ship around
Full sail, with blind eyes
I killed the plan, I'm a captain now
I cannot second guess sacrifice

And we wait for a savior
To take us from certain hell
We save ourselves and no-one else
We save ourselves and no-one else
Else

I want to believe (repeat)
