Your will changes everyday
It's a choice you've gotta make
I can't help you if I want to
Down here nothing gets a chance
It's a threat that's real enough
We can burn this bridge or stay here
It's a breeze everlasting like time
Making so sure that
I can return just to see it from your side again

Always never seems to work
It's a word you never learned
I don't really see a way clear
It's a sea ever churning in tides
In the sureness of time
And our words just repeat now forever again
Well this might take a while to figure out
So don't you rush it
And hold your head up high right through the doubt
'Cause it's just a matter of time
You've been running so fast
It's the seven day mile
Has you torn in-between here and running away

I don't have a choice in this
It's a road I've come upon
You can join us if you want to

Always never seems to work
It's a word we never learned
Time will be the judge of all here

This might take a while to figure out now
So don't you rush it
And hold you're head up high
Right through the doubt now
'Cause it's just a matter of time
You've been running so fast
It's the seven day mile
Has you torn in-between here and running away

It's the line you've been wanting
It's your time
It's the seven day mile
Has you torn in-between here and never again
Never again
